

Green

I am a butcher...bringing Alice the meat (even though I have a PhD in physics).

I am a police officer...respect my authority!

I sell propane and propane accessories. Only part-time though...I'd rather work full-time but my hours were cut due to slow sales.

I am the Assistant to the Manager of a large paper company.

I work part-time at Bluth's Original Frozen Banana Stand thanks to the housing bubble bursting. I really need to work full-time to pay my bills.

I work in a stone quarry in Indiana.

I am making my way in the world today and own a bar named, Cheers.

I own a chain of dry cleaners and just moved to the East Side of Manhattan.

I am a domestic employee for the Brady family even though I just graduated from college.

I am a waitress in Mel's Diner. Mel cut my hours to part-time because business has been slow. I am hurting.

I am an theoretical physicist and I live with an experimental physicist

I am a bartender on a cruise ship (that's what a PhD in social science qualifies me for, I guess).

I own a junkyard with my son.

I work for Vandalay Industries.

I am Pawnee, Indiana's Director of Parks & Recreation.

I write copy for the J. Peterman catalog.

I moved from Cuba to New York and now own the Copacabana nightclub.

I am a barista at Central Perk. My degree from NYU is really paying off!

I am a Master Chef.

I am an architect and am married to a very lovely lady.

I am a young musician having a very public mental breakdown while constantly sticking out my tongue.

I am a 35-year-old paperboy who lives above my parent's garage.

I own a shop called Rent-A-Swag.

I sell Real Estate in California.

I am a Paleontologist.

I work in a law firm that has co-ed bathrooms.

I am a Geologist from Colorado.

I work in a nuclear power plant.